

Avromi's Song
Composed by: Chaya Bruria Sachs
Lyrics by: Malka Leah Josephs

©2011 copyright, Chaya Bruria Sachs

Do you know the story of a child so small?
A boy whose life, whose happy life's a lesson for us all
He never tasted candy, never climbed a tree
And yet his joyous smile was there for all to see

Do you know my neighbor, he lives just down the street?
He doesn't play the way I play, unsteady on his feet
But I just love to see him, he makes me warm inside
He's always fun to be with, he has a smile so wide

CHORUS

And though a million tears were cried, you planted seeds of joy
Your smile makes the truth so clear, happiness is not from this world, but dveikus baHashem

Hazorim b'dimah, b'rinah yiktzoru
The pain is gone, smile shining through

Do you know my classmate, he needs some extra care
He doesn't run at recess time, he needs a tube for air
But when we're learning Torah, you'll see his brilliance shine
He brings our class kedusha, he is a friend of mine

Do you know my brother, his room's just down the hall
His cries at night, fill me with fright, will morning come at all?
But there are days of sunshine, fun games and laughter too
I love you my big brother and I look up to you

Did you know Avromi, did you talk to him?
Did you look into his eyes and feel simchas hachayim?
You didn't know he suffered, didn't see his pain
But once you know his message, you'll never be the same

CHORUS

BRIDGE

His message will live on for all to know
That it's only through our struggles that we can grow

Hazorim b'dimah, b'rinah yiktzoru
The pain is gone, smile shining through!